

SANDRINE DIXSON-DECLÈVE

Ambassador for Europe, Energy Transition Commission; Co-President Club of Rome

Sandrine was recognised by GreenBiz as one of the 30 most influential women across the globe driving change in the low carbon economy and promoting green business. She is the first female Co-President of the Club of Rome (1968), sits on several Boards, is a senior advisor/associate for CISL, ETC, Interel, E3G, and is a lecturer at the University of Cambridge. She holds several advisory positions within the European Commission including Chair of DG R&I Think Tank ESIR (Economic and Societal Implications of Research and Innovation); Co-Chair, Manufacturing Technical Expert Group on Sustainable Finance/Taxonomy; Member of the Climate Change Mission Assembly.