

Johannes Weidisch

Senior Director Process Improvement/ Lean Management, Lufthansa Technik AG

“Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (MRO) business is full of fantastic problems in the value chain to be solved. Connecting Lean Management with a focus on the ‘best problems’ with digitalization adding ‘best technological solutions’ will be crucial in ensuring competitiveness of MRO business worldwide. #AeroDays2020 will be a good platform to connect ideas for the digital agenda”

Johannes Weidisch is Senior Director Process Improvement/ Lean Management of Lufthansa Technik AG, reporting to the Executive Board of the company. Previously, Weidisch was Senior Director Process Improvement of Lufthansa Group in 2017/2018.

Prior to this position, he was responsible for a corporate transformation program. He was Head of Supply Chain Management in one of the business units of LHT for 5 years.

Weidisch graduated in International Business Administration from the University of Vienna, specializing in supply chain management. He studied and worked in Spain, Mexico and Belgium. He is married and lives with his three children in Hamburg.