

Tassilo Wanner - VP of Global Public & Regulatory Affairs at Lilium

“A true leader in European innovation, Lilium is making a dream come true: on-demand air travel for everyone – free of emissions and as affordable as a taxi. We are working hard on fitting our jet into existing aviation regulation - I look forward to discussing these further at AeroDays2020!”

Tassilo Wanner is the VP of Global Public & Regulatory Affairs at Lilium. He oversees the company’s worldwide stakeholder engagement, advocacy efforts, and regulatory and government affairs strategy.

Previously, Tassilo was an Engagement Manager at McKinsey & Company, leading TTL (Transport, Travel, and Logistics) as well as strategy and change management studies.

Before joining McKinsey, he spent four years in political planning and strategic communication roles for the Parliamentary Leadership in the German Bundestag as well as for the German Federal Minister of the Interior in Berlin.

Tassilo studied at LMU Munich and Georgetown University and earned a Doctorate in Political Science and Modern History. He is married and the father of three children.
