

Dr. Fabian Ziegler

Chairman of the Management Board of Deutsche Shell Holding GmbH

“Shell Aviation aims to help our customers decarbonise by avoiding emissions on the ground, reducing emissions principally through the use of Sustainable Aviation Fuel, and offsetting emissions through the use of carbon credits, specifically nature-based solutions. The Berlin Aviation Summit will bring together leading experts of the industry and beyond to discuss how the sector can become more sustainable. We look forward to contributing to this important dialog, and more specifically tangible solutions”.

Fabian Ziegler was born in 1967 in Basel, Switzerland. He began his career at Shell in Switzerland in 1996 after completing his studies and doctorate in economics and several years of work in a Swiss management consultancy. Since then, Fabian Ziegler has held various management positions at Shell in the Downstream and Projects & Technology divisions at home and abroad. Fabian Ziegler has been Chairman of the Management Board of Deutsche Shell Holding GmbH since 1 January 2020.

A Swiss national, Fabian is married and has two children.
