

Andreas Hardeman joined Boom Supersonic in March 2020 as Head of European Policy. Prior to establishing his own firm specializing in sustainability solutions for next generation aviation and aerospace markets, he served as Assistant Director, External Relations at the International Air Transport Association (IATA), the global trade body for the world's commercial airlines. During his tenure at IATA, Andreas was appointed formal representative to the ICAO Environment Committee (CAEP) and delegation leader to successive UN Climate Change Conferences (UNFCCC). In the European context, Andreas has spearheaded high-profile advocacy and lobbying campaigns successfully shaping aviation policies developed through EU Institutions and the European Civil Aviation Conference (ECAC). He holds graduate and postgraduate degrees in Civil Law (LLB), International Air and Space Law (LLM) and International Economic Development (MA). He is a fellow of the UK Royal Aeronautical Society (FRAeS), guest lecturer, published author and a regular contributor to academic journals. Andreas began his aviation career at KLM Royal Dutch Airlines and currently lives with his family on the shores of Lake Geneva, Switzerland.